General and Generous Giving. Wednesday, in addition to being the big day of the fair, was also a big day for St. Joseph's hospital, as it was tag day for that institution, Last year the hospital authorities conceived the idea of holding such a day and did so with marked success.

This year, as the forces were much

This year, as the forces were much better organized, the event was an even greater success and there were very few people about the streets and in the city, for that matter, who eacaped the winsome lassies who worked at their task for sweet charity's sake so willingly and well.

Practically all the nurses at the hospital, together with many other young fadies about the city and a large number of younger girls commetaced early in the morning and seemed to vie with eac hother to tag the largest number of people.

Merchants and others who could afford to contribute liberally took much pleasure in doing so. One merchant said it was a worthy cause, and gladly gave a $5 bill. There were some who gave out even larger amounts for the little red bit of pasteboard.

When the receipts are all in and counted it is confidently expected that the grand total will be $1,000, possibly Willimantic Ends Most Successful Day—Asa Wilkes Does Exhibition Mile in 2 10 1-4-Awards Made.

Willimantic and the Horseshoe Park Agricultural association had one of the biggest days in its history Wednesday. In spite of the somewhat threatening, weather of the early morning, the crowds poured into the city, went to the grounds carly and stayed late. Receipts at the grandstand were considerably ahead of last year's banner day and the admission at the gate totaled well up into the thousands. The fair, as a whole, was superior to anything that has been given in this city in recent years. The Midway was livelier than ever. A great many new sideshows and late arriving fakirs alded in livening things up. Good police protection was provided again and no accidents of any kind were reported. The band concerts were greatly enjoyed, and the vaudeville shows were even superior to those of Tuesday.

Secretary Frank P. Fenton was again a very busy man and received many compliments for the success of the fair. Assistant Secretary John device was most efficient in assisting in the many details.

Guests of President Gates.

Guests of President Gates. Guests of President Gates.

President C. A. Gates of the association had as distinguished guests Wednesday Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley, Railroad Commissioner Andrew F. Gates of Hartford, and Representative John Perrin of Thompson.

Mayor Daniel P. Dunn handled the megaphone to good advantage and kept things on the jump. His task of looking out for the fakirs and near-such was also enough to keep one good man thoroughly busy.

About the Grounds.

About the Grounds Contests in drag work by cattle came in for more than usual amount of attention, and it was a busy place all about where the excellent exhibits of cattle, sheep and pigs were quartered. The Races.

The first race Wednesday afternoon was the finish of the 2.35 class, post-poned from Tuesday, and resulted as follows:

$4,000 FIRE LOSS. Grist Mill of Attawaugan Co. Burnet -Tramps Blamed.

The grist mill of the Attawaugan company, situated near that village, was totally destroyed by a fire that was discovered about 1.30 Wednesday morning. The loss is estimated at between $4,000 and $5,000. There was some insurance on the building, but none on the contents, which included a quantity of grain. There was no means to combat the flames and as the fire had a big stat before it was discovered, the building was rapidly consumed. While nothing definite is known as to the origin of the fire, the supposition is that it was caused by tramps. The grist mill of the Attawangar terest that within a few weeks Judge Marcus H. Holcomb of Hartford, receiver of the Co-operative Savings Society of Connecticut, will submit his final account to a judge of the ask for his discharge as receiver.

CREDITORS ENCOURAGED. Splendid Management of Receiver of Co-operative Savings Society.

The creditors of the company have already received 75 per cent. of their claims. Another dividend of at least eight cents on the dollar is to be paid the creditors and the dividend may be the creditors and the dividend may be the creditors and the dividend may be nine cent. If the latter sum is paid, Judge Holcomb will have paid the creditors more than the inventory calue of the property that came to him as receiver and this in addition to paying all the expenses in settling the estate.

Judge Holcomb was appointed receiver of the company in June, 1965. The assets that came to him were to dieces of real estate in this state and in Rhode Island and there were about 400 loans on real estate in the two states. It was his duty to dispose of all of the real estate and collect on the loans and he has administered on all of the estate with the exception Personals.

Caro Latham of Eastford was at the fair Wednesday.

Stephen P. Coffey of Norwich was a fair visitor Wednesday.

Willis I. Copeland and family of Chaplin attended the fair Wednesday.

S. C. Chapman and Miss Nettie E. Snow of Chaplin attended the fair on Wednesday.

Oscar Hemmeller of Willington was of the loans and he has administered on all of the extant with the exception of six items. He still holds two pieces of real estate and has four loans uncollected, but expects to dispose of these matters soon and make his final accounting to the superior court. The estate that came into the possession of Judge Holcomb was in that had been filed by creditors and allowed against the society amounted to $70,182.06. The receiver has paid as dividends to creditors $531.886.54 and in additon has paid preferred on all of the extention of six items. He still holds two pieces of real estate and has four loans uncollected, but expects to dispose of these matters soon and make his final accounting to the superior court. The estate that came into the possession of Judge Holcomb was ln-ventoried at $595.229.27, and the claims that had been filed by creditors and allowed against the society amounted to $70,182.06. The receiver has paid as dividends to creditors $531.886.54 and in additon has paid preferred. 07. He has refunded to claimants by order of the superior court $398.25. The total amount he has paid out to The total amount he has paid out to date is $535,400.59. He has in the bank to his credit $68,812.20. When the further dividend of 8 cents on the dollar is paid, the dividends will have amounted to $592,135.45. Eight cents is certain to be paid the creditors on each dollar of their claims, but if they receive nine cents, as seems probable the amount received by probable, the amount received by creditors will be $599,227.27, an amount greater than the property inventoried to administer on and the administrator will have been paid aside from the money that will have been paid the creditors.
